

TILT (Transport Investments Logistics Tool)

Terms of Use

Welcome to our digital platform. By signing into TILT, TILT2GO or other related TILT products, (collectively, the “Service”) you are agreeing to be bound by this Terms of Use along with all other restrictive covenants might apply. If you do not agree to all of these Terms of Use, do not access or use the Service.

TILT (Transport Investments Logistics Tool)

The Service is a computer and mobile-based platform designed by InTransit LLC (InTransit) for use by employees, agents and independent contractors associated with companies owned by Transport Investments, Inc. (“TII”). InTransit has retained all rights to the intellectual property, trademarks, and invention of the Service. Using the Service does not grant you right, title or interest to the technology or information contained therein.

BUSINESS ETHICS

We must maintain an unyielding commitment to the highest ethical standards in every aspect of our business. To preserve trust, we must devote ourselves to maintaining these standards in our daily work activities, in our relationships with our customers, members, and business partners in our corporate and financial operations, and, ultimately, in providing high-quality transportation services. THE USE OF THE SERVICE AND INFORMATION FOUND IN TILT MAY ONLY BE USED IN THE FURTHERANCE OF THE BUSINESS OF TRANSPORT INVESTMENTS, INC. AND ITS AFFILIATES (“TII FAMILY OF COMPANIES”).

COMMUNICATIONS

To assist with customer service quality control, training, monitoring, adherence to company policies and improving service levels, the TII Family of Companies and their technology service providers have implemented or may implement certain technologies.

This means that when you interact with a member of the TII Family of Companies for business purposes, communications and internet transmissions may be captured, stored or used. Under normal circumstances, TII could preserve e-mails, internet transmissions and activity, and telephone conversations until it decides to delete them, at its sole discretion. This information may be used, without the expectation of privacy, by the TII Family of Companies for the above-stated business purposes.

CONFIDENTIALITY

You are solely responsible for protecting your own account password and other account information, and agree that you will not share your password with any other party.

The TII Family of Companies’ individual and separate business and contractual relationships with customers, agents, independent contractors, vendors, etc., are privileged and constitute valuable trade information. Reports, lists, contact information, manuals, rates, bill of landing, forms, logos, and other information contained in the Service or obtain in connection with your association with the TII Family of Companies is also privileged and constitutes valuable trade information. Any agent or independent contractor releasing or supplying this proprietary information to any party unrelated to TII or using the information for reasons other than in the furtherance of TII's business will be subject to, among all other available actions to the TII Family of Companies, immediate termination by the appropriate TII company and discontinuation of the Service. You expressly agree that TII and the companies owned by TII are permitted to seek injunctive relief and monetary damages against the breaching person and all other parties involved.

AGENT MANUAL (agents only)

The agent manual has been created to help inform you of our policies and procedures. A copy of the agent manual is available in TILT. By using the Service, you acknowledge that you have read, understand and agree to be bound by the rules, regulations, policies, and procedures contained in your respective company's Agent Manual.

CANCELLATION

The TII Family of Companies reserves the right to cancel access to the Service. The responsible TII Company will do so upon your separation as an agent, independent contractor and/or employee, and you will not be permitted to access the Service for any reason.
